

Violence in the US is taken for granted. Our children should not be exposed to graphic violence on TV. However, I do not feel that it should be restricted by faceless government censors. I am careful what my child watches and do not let her watch these shows. Parental oversight is the answer, not censorship.